ERWIN W. GLEUE AND ALMA BISSIG MARRIED WEDNESDAY

Miss Alma A. Bissig and Erwin W. Gleue, both well known young people of this city, were married Wednesday morning at nine-thirty at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C. E. Paulowit of this city performing the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Elsie Bissig, of Washington, D. C., her sister, and Miss Lillian Giesler, of Archie Gleue and Mr. Emerald Lyons, the former a brother of the groom and the latter a well known young man of this city who has recently returned from overseas, acted as groomsmen. The bride was very prettily gowned in white net and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids were gowned in white and carried bouquets of sweet peas. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Evelyn Bissig. The home had been very prettily decorated in pink and white with a beautiful floral arch of pink and white against a background of green. The bride presented a delightful appearance and the affair was a most pleasing one.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home after which Mr. and Mrs. Gleue took the noon train for Berlin and Madison, with the intention of making the latter city their future home.

Both of these young people are very well and favorably known in Grand Rapids, Mrs. Gleue being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bissig. She has made this city her home for a number of years and was a trained nurse at Jiverville hospital previous to her marriage. She is a most estimable young lady and has a multitude of friends. Mr. Gleue is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Gleue and is well known in the city as an ambitious and industrious young man. He has been connected with the Gleue Bros. shoe store in this city and leaves this city to make his home in Madison, where he takes a half interest in one of the stores in that city. Both of the young people leave this city for their new home with the best wishes of the Tribune and a host of other friends.

A. J. HUGHES DIES AFTER SEVERAL MONTHS ILLNESS

A. J. Hughes, a salesman, who had made his home in this city for the past twelve years, died at his home on Ninth street Friday, after an illness which extended over several months.

Mr. Hughes was born at Watoma, April 12, 1876, being 43 years of age at the time of his death. He was married to Miss Mary Leu at Hancock, Sept. 1, 1914. Three children blessed this union, one daughter dying in infancy. Mr. Hughes came to Grand Rapids with his family about twelve years ago, having made his home here since that time. He was employed as a salesman for the Rich Shoe Co., of Milwaukee. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mildred and Emmeline, and an only son, A. J. Hughes, of Coloma. Two brothers, William of Milwaukee and Ernest, of Great Falls, Montana, also survive him.

Diet funeral services were held at the house Sunday afternoon at 2:30, Rev. Carl Ludwig of the Methodist church officiating. A large number of friends had gathered to pay their last tribute to their friend. The remains were shipped to Hancock Monday morning where the funeral was held that day.

Mr. Hughes was a kind husband and father, a devoted and patient sufferer to the end. During his residence here he has made many friends who remain to mourn his loss.

BATH HOUSES AND PLAY GROUND TO IMPROVE POOL

Two new bath houses, which will be a distinct improvement on the present structure, which are being used for that purpose, along with a municipal play grounds will be added to the municipal swimming pool's attractions this summer according to a report given to the City Council at their regular session Tuesday evening. The report, which covered the work done last year, was tendered by Geo. W. Mead, of the Sewer and Sanitation Commission.

According to the report it is the intention of the Commission to improve the grounds around the pool to some extent, making the pool a little more of a credit to the city from the standpoint of a park. The pool has not only been used by the people of Grand Rapids but many people from the surrounding communities, as well as the many communities in Wood county come to the pool almost daily and enjoy themselves there.

The city has been making an annual appropriation of $500 for the support of the pool and the report showed that at the present time the Commission had no money on hand to start these improvements.

CO. AGENT QUESTION ARIED OUT TUESDAY

Meeting before the County Committee, appointed by the County Board at their recent session, several representatives from this city and other communities in the County gave testimony before the County Committee to express their opinion regarding the duties of the County Agent in Wood County, and to give the committee an idea of fulfilling the duties of the agent. The hearing has been called at the request of the Committee following some discussion which was brought up at the Board of Supervisors' meeting Tuesday night. The matter brought up at that time was whether or not Prof. Clark and Jackson were devoting their time to the duties of the agent, which was the County Normal and Agricultural School, or whether their farming activities were taking their time from the school work.

Mr. J. C. Kieffer, of Auburn, Wis., heading the committee, which also included A. E. Bennett and Seth Whitman, the meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. Kieffer. Mr. Kieffer asked for testimony from anyone interested and several of the farmers and others spoke. O. J. Leu gave a short talk on matters which had been brought up at the meeting, stating that he had heard that the agent was not doing his duty, and that he had heard that the agent was not doing his duty, and that he had heard that the agent was not doing his duty.

LOSE TO PORTAGE TEAM

The Grand Rapids base ball team opened the season with air tight baseball at the South Side park Memorial day when they lost out on the local lot by a score of 1 to 0. The Portage team coming out on the long end of the score. After beating the base ball team at Stevens Point, the team slipped in the last half of the ninth and let the Mosinee boys get four runs. This tied the score. The extra innings failed to break the tie, and the game was called at the end of the sixth inning. The Portage team brought two more men across the plate in the twelfth, leaving the final score a tie, six and six.

The game at the ball park on Friday was a pitchers' duel from the start. Palmher representing the local players on the slab. Few hits were made by either side and had it not been for a misjudged fly in right field in the sixth inning, the game probably have gone extra innings. Up to the sixth both pitchers were retiring the men about as fast as they came up, neither side being in any danger of losing the game. On the sixth the visitors managed to get a man on. A fly to right field was misjudged by the player in that garden and the runner stretched it into a double, scoring the only run of the game. The support given both pitchers was good and they walked out with about fifteen strike outs apiece.

Going up to Mosinee Sunday the local boys made a good showing, scoring four runs during the first nine innings and evidently having the game put safely away. Mosinee, however, determined to make a showing and when the smoke cleared away they had four runs to their credit, tying the score. The tie was broken in the tenth inning when the Grand Rapids brought in two more. Mosinee came back in their half of the same inning with two runs and the game was called off at the end of the thirteenth on account of darkness.

GETTING INTO GOLD COUNTRY

C. R. Matthews received a letter from Dr. Fache Monday stating that he had arrived at Wrangle, Alaska, and expected to go on to Messenger Creek, which is in Canada, looking for gold, expecting to start June 1. The doctor stated that he had talked to one of the old settlers from Messenger Creek and that he had been given every encouragement.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cottrill at Riverview hospital Wednesday morning.

COUNCIL FAVORABLE ON BRIDGE PROJECT

Voting unanimously for the proposition, the City Council Tuesday evening passed a petition asking the State Highway Commission to erect a new bridge across the Wisconsin river at Grand Rapids. While the proposition still has to go through a lengthy procedure this is quite a step toward securing a new bridge for this city.

The matter is forwarded to the highway commission, who come here and hold a public hearing on the location and the necessity of putting in a new bridge. After that is determined the matter goes back to the city, who raise their share of the money required and the State Highway Commission goes ahead and erects the bridge under their supervision. Under the new law which was recently passed by the state legislature, the city's share will be one-third, the county's share one-third while the state will pay one-third. The new law states that no more money be raised for the purpose of building bridges, but it is expected that if Grand Rapids takes care of their part of the matter without any raising of taxes, the State Highway Commission will be able to build the new structure beneath it. While it is generally conceded the new bridge will be of concrete with four spans, this will be determined later. It will be the distance between the buildings on Vme and Grand and while the center will be about three feet higher than the present bridge, this is taken up by sloping it up toward the center from each end.

An opportunity to clean up a question over which every city council for several years past has argued, was presented to the City Council Tuesday evening which may be the basis of a Memorial Building for this city, in honor of the boys who fought in the World War. The idea of the City Council is to turn their property on Oak street, known as the G. A. R. Hall, over to the city without cost, to be used as a Memorial Building for all soldiers of southern Wood county. A special Committee composed of Alderman George Hanson and Schlegel was appointed to look into the matter.

The Board of Education was empowered to borrow $25,000 for the purpose of rebuilding their heating plant at the Lincoln and Witter schools, which has been very unsatisfactory and wasteful. The idea in passing the resolution was merely to let the Board borrow the money from the State Treasury, which would lend it to them at four and one-half percent interest, while should the city borrow it the interest would be six percent.

A number of the City employees presented a resolution stating that they had joined the union and asked that the city make no discrimination against the union men, which the council unanimously agreed to. The city's Fire Team drivers got a raise to $150 per month after Engineer Thompson explained to the Council the difficulty of getting drivers and the amount of work they did. The City Engineer stated that the city would never get a better man than John Henry had been.

The matter of the brick paving done by the street car company on Grand and Third avenues heaving and being in bad shape brought out considerable discussion, and Alderman Reinius was appointed to a committee of one to confer with the company to try to get them to improve this work. Upon report of a committee the Council decided to buy a bronze tablet for the city, which would be placed on the corner of Grand and Third streets, and which would be a memorial to the city's soldiers who gave their lives for their country just as soon as the army is demobilized.

WILL CLEAN UP BUILDING

Following a request on the part of the City Council the Witter estate has agreed to clean up the burned building and unsightly corner formerly occupied by the Johnson & Hill Grocery, and will tear down the burned part of the structure which remains standing. The decision grew out of a discussion which came up at the May meeting of the Council, when some of the aldermen complained that the side of the building toward Second Avenue was in a dangerous condition and that a heavy building might be blown down, which would be a disaster to the city. A new building might be placed there as improvements were made.

LOOKS FOR BIG CROP

Will George, who farms just west of the city, and who is one of the well known strawberry growers in this city, states that the weather conditions continue as they have started out without any frost there will be a record crop of strawberries in this city. The crop of strawberries has started already and while some good crops have been experienced in previous years, the prospects were never as good for a bumper crop as they are at the present time. Mr. George expects to have berries by the fifteenth of June should the weather conditions be favorable.

WILL MAKE WESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Orestes Carlson and son, Rogers, expect to leave next week on a western trip during which time they will visit the Denver, Colorado Springs, the Yellowstone National Park and other points during their trip. They will travel by automobile and expect to be gone several weeks. Mr. Carlson expects to go from this city to Chicago and take one of the southern routes, the Lincoln Highway or Ocean to Ocean trail, to Denver, later going up to Park and returning home the Yellowstone trail.

CHANGES AT POSTOFFICE

Wm. F. Marsh who has been delivering mail on Carrier Four in this city for several years past, has been transferred to a rural route and in the future will deliver the mail on route six, in Saginaw. Eric C. Warren, the present postman, will take Mr. Marsh's route in the city until a permanent appointment is made. Chester Severance, who recently returned from service overseas, has been reinstated as general delivery clerk.

RE-ORGANIZE SCOUT WORK

With the proclamation June 8 to Play Day June 14, as Boy Scout Week, the Grand Rapids people interested in this movement have called a meeting for Friday afternoon, when they will confer with C. K. Warren of Chicago, a scout deputy. The officials of the Scout work here feel that there is a great deal of good which can be accomplished thru the organization and expect to reorganize and make the coming summer a banner one for the boys.

The new store will occupy the first floor of the new one story Gay building in Madison, one of the most modern structures down there and in the loop district. John Ripp, an old established shoe dealer of Madison is one of the other principal stock holders and the firm will continue to use the name, which is well known in Madison.

Mr. Wm. F. Gleue, who has made his home in this city for the past ten years, has been traveling for the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. during the past two years. He states that the Grand Rapids store will be left in charge of J. A. Freudenberger, while the repair department as heretofore, will be in charge of Archie Gleue, Edward Fahl and Ed. Rickman will also remain with the local store.

Erwin Gleue, who has been connected with the local store, will go to Madison where he will be getting the store at that place. Mr. Wm. Gleue states that his work will require about four months of his time while the balance of the year will be spent in general supervision of the Grand Rapids, Madison and LaValle stores.

Mr. Erwin Gleue, who is taking a half interest in the Madison store is well known in this city. He started in the shoe business in Grand Rapids with his father several years ago and has proved himself to be a capable and industrious young man. During this time he has been interested in the management of the Grand Rapids store and goes to Madison thoroughly competent to start out on this larger and promising enterprise.

WOULD HAVE MEMORIAL FOR VETS OF MANY WARS

The veterans of '61, who make up the G. A. R. Post in this city, presented a communication to the Council Tuesday evening which may be the basis of a Memorial Building for this city, in honor of the boys who fought in the World War. The idea of the City Council is to turn their property on Oak street, known as the G. A. R. Hall, over to the city without cost, to be used as a Memorial Building for all soldiers of southern Wood county. A letter from Mrs. W. G. Merrill states that her husband, Major Merrill, is on his way home and is expected to arrive at the State in the near future. Major Merrill was commissioned in the Medical Corps during the Mexican Border trouble.

The Thermometer Tells the Story

Evansville, Ind., April 23, 1917
Homer Furnace Co., Homer, Michigan
Dear Sir:—We have an eight-room house, four rooms down stairs and three and bath upstairs, with basement.
(We encountered no difficulty in heating our home as per guarantee to 70° and more, even with the temperature at 14° below zero.)

The entire house was comfortable, the temperature varied only a few degrees. It gives the proper moisture and the circulation of the air is perfect.

It is very economical in the consumption of fuel. We used 175 pounds of coal and one barrel of oil for the entire season and kitchen range included.

It produces practically no odors, thereby getting all the heat out of the fuel, giving the consumer the full benefits of the same. It has done all you claim for it and more.

I unhesitatingly and cheerfully recommend the Homer Furnace to anyone who desires the maximum of heating by furnace.

Respectfully, Rev. C. J. Schmitz
R. F. D. No. 6, Evansville, Ind. Pastor Salem M. E. Church.

And the foregoing letter is only one of the many from 35,000 Homer owners.

HAWKER FOUND ALIVE AT SEA

British Flyer and His Aid Are Saved by Danish Steamer Mary.

TRANSFERRED TO A WARSHIP

Battleship Revenge Takes Rescued
Flyer to Scotland, Whence They Went to London—Thanking
Ing Services in Churches.

London, May 27.—Harry Hawker and Lieutenant Commander Grievs, who started a week ago on a transatlantic air flight from Newfoundland to Ireland, were rescued by the Danish steamer Mary, bound for Horsens, Denmark.

The two airmen have been transferred from the Mary to the British battleship Revenge and spent the night in Scapaflow, the Orkneys, as the guests of Admiral Fremantle. They put ashore at Thurso, where they will board a train for London.

Harry G. Hawker sent the following statement to the London Daily Mail:
"My machine stopped owing to the water filter in the freewheel from the radiator to the water pump being blocked with refuse, such as solder and the like sinking loose in the radiator."

"It was no fault of the Rolls-Royce motor, which ran absolutely perfectly from start to finish, even when all the water had boiled away."

"We had no trouble in alighting on the sea, where we were picked up by the tramp ship Mary, after being in the water for 90 minutes. We leave Thurso at 2 p. m. Monday, arriving in London Tuesday evening."

The Mary reported that she had picked up the two flyers Monday in latitude 50-20 north; longitude 20-30 west, approximately half way between Newfoundland and the coast of Ireland, for which they headed after leaving St. Johns.

The airplane had been forced to descend close to the steamer because of stoppage of circulation in the water pump leading to the radiator. The steamer happened along in the nick of time, because the plane could not have lived long in the turbulent sea and the aircraft contrivance would have been destroyed.

The airplane was abandoned. Both men are reported to be in perfect health.

Lloyd's received a message from Bull of Lewis that the Danish steamer Mary signalled, "Saved Hawker Sopwith airplane."

The steamer was asked: "Is it Hawker?"

The Mary replied: "Yes."

The Danish steamer Mary sailed
May 4 from New York for Denmark.

London, May 27.—Like news from beyond the globe came the report that Harry G. Hawker and Lieutenant Commander Mackenzie Grievs had been picked up at sea by a Danish ship.

The glad tidings spread through the city like wildfire and were greeted with wild demonstrations of joy everywhere.
The greatest demonstration of all took place in the village of Scapaflow, where Hawker has his home.

Hawker's wife was overjoyed at the announcement of her husband's rescue.

"I know he'd come back," she said to the Universal Service correspondent who had called at the cottage. "I had a presentiment he was not dead all the time. Oh, it's the happiest woman in the world. Harry can fly across the Atlantic again any time he wants to. The sure his good luck will continue."

Special thanksgiving services were held in the Scapaflow churches at night.

The Mary is a small steamship, with a wireless outfit of limited radius.
Stormy weather along the northern Atlantic shipping routes in the last few days may also account for the delay in communicating news of the rescue.

Families Authorized.

Washington, May 24.—The house passed a deficiency bill, providing urgent appropriations of $45,044,500 for war risk allowances to soldiers and sailors' families and Civil war pensions, thus making another speed record following the adoption of the woman suffrage resolution.

Washington, May 24.—The senate passed without debate an amendment to the deficiency appropriation bill, adopted Thursday by the house, authorizing $45,000,000 for war risk allowances to families of soldiers and sailors and for dependents of Civil war veterans.
The measure now goes to the president.

May Sign by June 15.

Paris, May 27.—The latest guess as to when the peace treaty would be signed is some time between June 10 and June 15. The belief was freely expressed in French official circles that the Germans will sign the treaty.

Taft to Succeed Hoover.

Paris, May 27.—Col. E. M. House's membership on the committee of organization of the league of nations is only temporary and he probably will be succeeded by former President Taft, according to the Matin.

Reds Flee From Moscow.

trograd to Copenhagen by travelers and forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph company.

TO RECOGNIZE KOLCHAK RULE

Council of Four Decides to Approve Antibolshevik Government of Russia.

ALLIES TO SUPPLY ARMS

German Peace Envoys Will Promise
Allies to Cut Army to 350,000
In Two Months and 200,
000 in Year.

Paris, May 27.—The council of four of the peace conference has decided conditionally to recognize the antibolshevik governments of Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin, according to Bente's agency here. The conditions for the recognition are that, regardless of the future of Russia, these governments agree to evacuate and accept the verdict of a genuine constituent assembly; likewise that the league of nations covenant and its consequences as affecting the boundaries of the former empire be accepted. The constituent assembly is to determine the future form of government of Russia.

The allies will not furnish Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin with troops, but will supply them with arms, munitions, money, and food on a larger scale than hitherto.

It is stipulated that there will be no interference with the races of non-Russian states recently erected from old Russian territory.

With the exception of one minor concession, all suggestions and counter-proposals by Germany for the disposition of the Saar basin have been rejected by the reply of the allies and associated powers.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's appeal for an oral discussion of the points at issue on this subject was ignored.

The 'concession' agreed to is that Germany might create a prior charge upon her assets or revenues for the payment of the mines in the Saar region. If this plebiscite goes against France, it, however, the sum agreed upon is not paid within a year from the date it is due, the reparation commission shall effect payment under instructions from the league of nations.

The council of four has completed the Austrian treaty, with the exception of financial clauses and the southern boundary, on which some details are still to be straightened out.

Berlin, May 27.—Information has been received from an unimpeachable source that the counterproposal to be made by Germany to the peace conference will declare in favor of military disarmament, saying that Germany is ready to reduce her forces to 350,000 within two months after the conclusion of peace and by the expiration of another year to cut the size of the army down to 200,000 men.

FOE PROTESTS PEACE TERMS

"Would Be Death Sentence to Germany," Says Brockdorff-Rantzau—Allies Refuse to Modify Pact.

Paris, May 24.—"Those who will sign this treaty will sign the death sentence of millions of German men, women and children," declared Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, in the formal protest to the allies against the economic conditions of the peace treaty, which was rejected in another communication forwarded by the allies.

"A rash assertion," was Premier Clemenceau's reply on behalf of the allies to the dramatic declaration by Count Brockdorff-Rantzau.

Premier Clemenceau reminded the Germans that they might well have incurred loss of life as a result of the war, since they started it. He declared, however, that the economic restrictions imposed on Germany would mean her death, pointing to Great Britain as a nation which imports at least half her food supplies and most of her raw materials from abroad.

YANKS LEAVING ARCHANGEL

Withdrawal of the American Troops
From North Russia Actually Under Way.

Washington, May 28.—Withdrawal of the American forces from Archangel is actually under way, according to cable advice to the war department, which stated that members of the Three Hundred and Thirty-ninth infantry were awaiting evacuation.

The cablegram also said that the return of individual soldiers as casuals, in accordance with a recent request of the department, would not expedite the discharge of such units since the units would arrive at home before these individuals.

thirty men have entered their names

DRASTIC DRY BILLS

MEASURES FOR ENFORCING PRO-HIBITION IN SENATE.

One Forbids Drinking in Automobiles and Airplanes—Search Warrants
Are Prohibited.

Washington, May 26.—Bills for enforcing war-time and constitutional prohibition were introduced by Senators Sheppard (Dem.) of Texas and Jones (Rep.) of Washington. Senator Sheppard's measure follows the lines of one that failed in the last congress, but Senator Jones' bill would apply to all alcoholic liquor containing one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume.

In the Sheppard bill liquor is defined as including "any distilled, malt, sprituous, vinous, fermented or alcoholic liquor and all alcoholic liquids and compounds whether medicated, proprietary, patented or not."

For the purpose of enforcing prohibition the secretary of the treasury will be authorized to appoint a prohibition commissioner and various assistants.

Persons who have stored quantities of liquor in their own homes in preparation for the long dry spell would be sure from molestation, as the act provides search warrants cannot be issued.

Consumption of the airplane is taken by the bill, which prohibits transportation of intoxicants by that means as well as by common carriers.

Drinking of intoxicating liquors in all public conveyances and in automobiles would be prohibited under the act, which provides that in case where persons are injured or killed by drunken persons suits for damages can be brought against the liquor.

Fines, ranging from $500 to $1,000, with imprisonment of not less than 30 days nor more than 12 months would be prescribed and $5, 000,000 would be appropriated for the enforcement of the act during the Es-cal year 1920.

Measures for repeal of the war-time prohibition act in so far as it relates to wines and beer and for enforcement of that act as well as the constitutional amendment also were introduced in the senate.

The repeal bill was offered by Senator Hiram (Dem.) of California and is similar to the measure introduced in the house by Representative Gallivan (Dem.) of Massachusetts.

Up—$3,000,000 Loss.

persons were killed and over twenty injured by the explosion at the Douglass Starch works.

The loss in the fire that followed is $3,000,000.

The cause of the explosion is unknown, but it is thought to be either a boiler explosion or spontaneous combustion.

The explosion was followed by a series of smaller explosions, which caused the destruction of the main building and the loss of the entire plant.

The explosion also caused the de-given the product of a purebred Guernsey cow, "Marie of Sarala," for five years to the First Methodist church of Beloit, as a gift towards the missionary fund, which the Methodists are raising. Mr. Dougan estimates that the cow will yield the church $200 per year and that her services will be worth $1,000 to the movement. The Beloit Methodists have more than pledged their quota of $22,000.

Madison.—In a special message to the legislature, Gov. Philip submitted trucks are to be assigned to these

GREETED BY THE PRESIDENT

Lieutenant Commander Read in NC-4
Flies From Azores to Portugal Capital in Nine Hours and 44 Minutes.

Ponta Delgada, May 28.—The Atlantic ocean has been crossed for the first time in history in an aerial passage, the American navy winning the honor.
The American naval seaplane NC-4 accomplished the feat by winging its way to Lisbon, Portugal, from the Azores, whence it had flown from Newfoundland.

The flight of approximately 750 miles was made by Lieut. Com. Albert C. Read and his crew of five in 9 hours and 44 minutes.

They left Ponta Delgada, Azores, at 5:15 a. m., central time, and reached Lisbon at 3:01, central time.

HAWKER FOUND ALIVE AT SEA

British Flyer and His Aid Are Saved by Danish Steamer Mary.

TRANSFERRED TO A WARSHIP

Battleship Revenge Takes Rescued
Flyer to Scotland, Whence They Went to London—Thanksgiving Services in Churches.

London, May 27.—Harry Hawker and Lieutenant Commander Greive, who started a week ago on a transatlantic air flight from Newfoundland to Ireland, were rescued by the Danish steamer Mary, bound for Horsens, Denmark.

The two airmen have been transferred from the Mary to the British battleship Revenge and spent the night in Scapaflow, the Orkneys, as the guests of Admiral Fremantle. They put ashore at Thurso, where they will board a train for London.

Harry G. Hawker sent the following statement to the London Daily Mail: "My machine stopped owing to the water filter in the freezings from the radiator to the water pump being blocked with refuse, such as solder and the like sticking loose in the radiator.

It was no fault of the Rolls-Royce motor, which maintained perfectly from start to finish, even when all the water had boiled away.

"We had no trouble in alighting on the sea, where we were picked up by the tramp ship Mary, after being in the water for 90 minutes. We leave Thurso at 2 p. m. Monday, arriving in London Tuesday evening."

The Mary reported that she had picked up the two flyers Monday in latitude 50.20 north longitude 22.30 west, approximately half way between Newfoundland and the coast of Ireland, for which they headed after leaving St. Johns.

The airplane had been forced to descend close to the steamer because of stoppage of circulation in the water pump leading to the radiator. The water was frozen along in the neck of time, because the plane could not have lived long in the turbulent sea and the difficult contrivance would have been of little avail.

The airplane was abandoned. Both men are reported to be in perfect health.

Lloyd's received a message from Harry G. Hawker that the Danish steamer Mary signalled, "Saved Hands South with airplane."

The steamer was asked: "Is it Hawker?"

The Mary replied: "Yes."

The Danish steamer Mary sailed May 4 from Norfolk for Denmark.

London, May 27.—Like news from beyond the grave came the report that Harry G. Hawker and Lieutenant Commander Mackenzie Greive had been picked up at sea by a Danish ship.

The glad tidings spread through the city like wildfire and was greeted with wild demonstrations of joy everywhere. The greatest demonstration of all took place in the village of Scapaflow, where Hawker has his home.

Hawker's wife was overjoyed at the announcement of her husband's rescue. "I know he'd come back," she said to the Universal Service correspondent who had called at the cottage. "I had a presentiment he was not dead all the time. Oh, I'm the happiest woman in the world. Harry can fly across the Atlantic again any time he wants to. I'm sure his good luck will continue."

Special thanksgiving services were held in the Scapaflow churches at night.

The Mary is a small steamship, with a wireless outfit of limited radius. Stormy weather along the northern Atlantic steamship routes in the last few days may also account for the delay in communicating news of the rescue.

TO RECOGNIZE KOLCHAK RULE

Council of Four Decides to Approve Antibolshevik Government of Russia.

ALLIES TO SUPPLY ARMS

German Peace Envoy Will Promise
Allies to Cut Army to 200,000
in Two Months and 350,000
in Year.

Paris, May 27.—The council of four of the peace conference has decided conditionally to recognize the antibolshevik government of Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin, according to Reuters' agency here. The conditions for the recognition are that, regardless of the future of Russia, these governments agree to convolve and accept the verdict of a genuine constituent assembly; likewise that the league of nations covenant and its consequences as affecting the boundaries of the former empire be accepted. The constituent assembly is to determine the future form of government of Russia.

The allies will not furnish Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin with troops, but will supply them with arms, munitions, money, and food on a large scale than hitherto.

It is stipulated that there will be no interference with the rule of non-recognitions recently erected from old Russian territory.

With the exception of one minor concession, all suggestions and counter-proposals by Germany for the disposition of the Saar basin have been rejected by the reply of the allies and associated powers.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's appeal for an oral discussion of the points at issue on this subject was ignored.

The concession agreed to is that Germany might create a prior charge upon her assets or revenues for the payment of the mines in the Saar region, if the plebiscite goes against France. If, however, the sum agreed upon is not paid within a year after the date it is due, the report under commission shall effect payment under the terms of the league of nations.

The council of four has completed the Austrian treaty, with the exception of financial clauses and the southern boundary, on which some details are still to be straightened out.

Berlin, May 27.—Information has been received from an unimpeachable source that the counterproposal to be made by Germany to the peace conference will declare in favor of military disarmament, saying that Germany is ready to reduce her forces to 350,000 within two months after the conclusion of peace and by the expiration of another year to cut the size of the army down to 200,000 men.

FOE PROTESTS PEACE TERMS

"Would Be Death Sentence to Germans," Says Brockdorff-Rantau—Allies Refuse to Modify Pact.

Paris, May 24.—Those who will sign this treaty will sign the death sentence of millions of German men, women and children," declared Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, in the final protest to the allies against the economic conditions of the peace treaty, which was rejected in the communication forwarded by the allies.

"A rash assertion," was Premier Clemenceau's reply on behalf of the allies to the dramatic declaration by Count Brockdorff-Rantzau.

Premier Clemenceau reminded the Germans that they might bear larger loss of life as a result of the war, since they started it. He denied, however, that the economic restrictions imposed on Germany would mean her death, pointing to Great Britain as a nation which imports at least half her food supplies and most of her raw materials from abroad.

Are Prohibited.

Penalties ranging from $500 to $1,000 fine with imprisonment of not less than 30 days nor more than 12 months would be prescribed and $5,000 fine would be appropriated for the enforcement of the act during the fiscal year 1920.

Measures for repeal of the war-time prohibition act in so far as it relates to wines and beer and for enforcement of that act as well as the constitutional amendment also were introduced in the senate.

MAY TRY TO PASS AN EXCLUSION BILL

CONGRESS IS ALMOST SURE TO ADOPT SOME IMMIGRATION LEGISLATION SOON.

IT'S A TICKLISH SUBJECT

Northern Members Not So Free to Act as the Southern—Bombs Plot Increases the Chances for a Draconic Measure.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Congress at its extra session will undertake immigration legislation, which at all times has been charged with dynamite, but which this time will be charged with TNT.

Immigration legislation scares every politician north of the Mason and Dixon line. Most southern representatives in congress can vote for total exclusion of all would-be immigrants and never stir more than a ripple of opposition among their constituents. Northern representatives cannot do this except in the cases of a few men who represent districts which to a considerable extent are constituted—barring the negro—like the constituencies of the South. Republicans and Democrats in congress have voted on many occasions against certain restrictive legislation of which at heart they were in favor. They voted as they did to save themselves at the polls.

When labor began to demand more drastic immigration legislation, congressmen paid heed and voted in considerable measure for the reading and writing restriction which finally became a law after the bill containing it had been vetoed three times. President Taft and President Wilson, men of opposite parties, did the vetoing, but the measure finally was passed by the required two-thirds majority over the present president's "I forbid."

May Offer Bill Like Burnett's.

Representative Burnett, Democrat of Alabama, in the last congress was chairman of the house committee on immigration. He proposed that no foreigner, with the exception of a certain few commercial classes and others, be permitted to come to this country for five years. It is probable that a measure of this kind will be introduced at the extra session of congress, but the chances are that it will not have Republican sanction. It will come in as an off-shoot bill to be presented by some member who is willing to take a longer stride than his colleagues.

Recent anarchist manifestations seem to have moved the Republican majority to a willingness to go further in restrictive legislation than three weeks ago it was thought possible. It is impossible to say just what form the legislation will take, but the feeling is that while no time limit of absolute exclusion will be set, something will be done to prevent the entry into this country of men who are perfectly able to pass the usual physical and mental tests, but who could not pass any test of loyalty to any existing form of government. The desire will be to keep out the anarchists and the potential anarchists, and it is admitted that the loyalty test is of little avail with these classes.

Representative Burnett, who put in the five-year exclusion bill, received a bomb the other day through the mails. So did ex-Senator Hendrick of Georgia, who was active in immigration legislation. The fact that these men were recipients of bombs will do something to make more determined the men of the coming congress who will have immigration matters in charge. Bombings and attempted bombings always work that way. They tend to bring about the things which the bomb throwers and bomb throwers seek to prevent.

White House Made Whiter.

Today in Washington the White House stands lonely. The only scenes of activity within its walls are, to make a bull, and within its walls, or certainly not within its walls, are the offices of the annex where Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty and Assistant Secretaries Rudolph Forster and Thomas W. Bruhaney and a big staff of clerical assistants daily are at work. The White House has been treated to a new coat of paint, and it stands white and gleaming in the May sunshine. Every second year, or in the longest, every third year, the painters come and put a white overcoat on the old house. It was painted white by the building the name of White House. As every one knows, the White House grounds are directly opposite Lafayette square, separated therefrom by the broad reach of Pennsylvania avenue. In the absence of the president and his family visitors are not admitted to the White House, nor, in fact, have they been admitted for a long time because of existing war conditions. So, however, it is believed that restrictions will be off and that the old mansion with its treasures will be thrown open in all its parts except the actual living quarters to the visitors from here, there and everywhere.

From the White House to Lafayette square being only a step, nearly all the spring visitors, and their name is multitude, who are coming into Washington at this season turn after a view of the White House to wander through the square and then to look upon the fine old houses with their historic memories which from the square from three sides, the fourth side being the White House.

One can spend a whole day interestingly in this immediate section. At the corner of H street and Madison place, fronting Kosciuszko's monument on Lafayette square, is the old Dolly Madison house, now the quarters of the scientific club known as the Cosmos club. After James Madison died his widow continued to occupy this house for many years and there she held her famous levees. The main part of the house is as it was in "Dolly's" day. The Cosmos club, however, has added to the original structure until now the scientists have plenty of room for the increasing membership of their organization.

Fronting Lafayette square from the north is a brown stone house which many years ago was the home of the British minister, for at that time Great Britain maintained a minister and not an ambassador in the capital of the United States. In a room of this house Owen Meredith, a nephew of Bulwer Lytton, wrote the somewhat famous poem of "Lancelotti" or at any rate it was here that he wrote a large part of it.

At the corner of Jackson place and H street, fronting Lafayette square, is a large but plain brick house built and occupied at one time by Stephen Decatur. It was from this house that Decatur went forth to his duel with Commodore James Barron, a duel in which he met his death.

Gather for Extra Session.

Senators and representatives in congress will happen now to be at home are packing up their belongings preparatory to moving on Washington for the extra session. Many of the members of both houses already are here and are engaged in home seeking, for many a new one has no home except the one to which he is elected, the lower house or the upper house of the congress of the United States.

Notwithstanding the fact that the capital is Republican and the White House is Democratic, a large amount of legislation will be attempted this year, some of which is certain to be vetoed and some of which is certain to become the law of the land.

In Washington for some weeks have been leading representatives of both political parties, the Republicans planning for legislation which they will attempt to enact and the Democrats studying what the Republicans intend to do so that they may know whether to acquiesce or to fight.

It seems altogether likely that a new "party rule" will be in force in the senate. Some of the Republicans determined recently that legislation in the upper house should not be determined upon, pro or con, by a handful of men, but by all the Republicans acting together. This rule already has been sanctioned in advance by the Republican senators. The Democrats acted on this principle to some extent during the time that they were in control of the senate.

Change From Old Method.

In the old days three or four men of their party, with power delegated to them by the other members, constituted the "committee" on a bill to be introduced. It is this little group agreed that certain bills should be passed, or a passage, or should be shelved, the party members generally agreed with them, and the result was that bills were passed or defeated at the whim of the few rather than on the sanction of the many. It was a case of a party blindly following its leaders. It is probable that hereafter in the United States senate, no matter which party is in control, the entire party membership will take a hand in suggesting what should be done and what should not be done.

Congress will meet in extra session May 16. The two houses are in control of the Republicans, although the upper house is held by that party by such a slim majority that it may be difficult at times to get legislation through. It will be necessary to bring to the support of Republican bills the votes of some senators who in recent years have not been strongly Republican, but more or less independent. It will take a good deal of diplomacy on the part of Republican leaders to secure the adherence of all the members of the party majority on all occasions.

Republicans of the house will start at an attempt to frame a tariff measure. It is as yet undecided whether it will be an old-fashioned Republican bill, or one which simply will attempt to make readjustments in the existing schedules. An old-fashioned Republican tariff bill would be almost sure to meet with a veto, but a readjustment bill probably would be signed.

If the Republicans follow the readjustment plan they will do it because apparently they hope that in two years they can start in on a comprehensive measure and hand it over to a Republican president to sign.

While there is a sort of cocksureness in Republican ranks that the next presidential election is to be won, the optimism of the Republicans is no greater than that of the Democrats, who fully expect that their candidate will be elected.

Bridgegroom.

Contrary to general opinion, "bridegroom" has nothing to do with groom. It is from an old English word guma, a man; hence bridegroom, the bride's man.

Fishing From the Skies.

As we all know, aviators when flying over the sea in the weather can see a long way down into the water, a fact which was made full use of in the course of submarine hunting. From an airplane shoals of fish can be observed, when their presence is unnoticeable from the surface, and the suggestion is that trained observers should be employed on the principal fishery grounds to signal the presence and whereabouts of these shoals to the waiting trawlers below.

Candids About It.

How "I" was rich, darling, would you love me more than you do?" She—"Well, I might not love you any more, but I should look forward to our wedding day with a great deal more impatience than at present."

"Pieces of Eight."

The piece of eight was the old Spanish plaster or peso, now called a dollar, thus known throughout the Spanish Main in the days of piracy, because it was a direct result. It was a silver coin worth $1.

Use of Tire Chains.

Use tire chains when roads are slippery, but take them off as soon as not needed.

Few See World at Its Best.

It is indeed wonderful to consider how few the people who get up how early in the morning. If we leave out the milkman and the farmer, we might say that nobody knows it is daylight until the sun has risen far on its course. Every hour of all the day has a charm of its own. Night is very beautiful and so is noon time. But, there can be no doubt at all that the world is more beautiful at the dawn of day than at any other time.—Los Angeles Times.

Swift & Company has become one of the large businesses of the world through continuing to meet the growing needs of a nation and a world.

Society has a right to ask how the increasing responsibilities and opportunities for usefulness which go with such growth are being used by the men who direct its affairs—and the men have the right to answer:

To promote the production of live stock and perishables and increase the food supply;

To reach more people with more and better meat;

To make a fair competitive profit, in order to reimburse the 25,000 shareholders for the use of their capital, and to provide for the future development of the business;

To reduce to a minimum the costs of preparing and distributing meat and to divide the benefits of efficiency with producer and consumer;

To live and let live, winning greater business only through greater usefulness, with injury to nothing but incompetency, inefficiency and waste; to deal justly, fairly, and frankly with all mankind.

SIXTY-ONE SENIORS GRADUATED AT LINCOLN HIGH ON MONDAY

Speaking on the subject of opportunities for success in our modern American life, Mr. A. E. Wigram, gave the graduates of the Lincoln High School, an unusually sound and inspiring address Monday night. Mr. Wigram is a scientist of high standing and a lecturer of national reputation. He gives his message in an interesting manner, and never for a moment does his audience seem bored. He came to give the commencement address to the sixty-one young people who received diplomas from the local high school.

The program of the evening was not long. Reverend C. A. Mielke gave the invocation after which Mr. Edward Jantz, of Port Edwards sang "The Gypsy Trail" and responded to an encore. Miss Stella Rickman, salutatorian of the class gave a fine oration describing the Americanization work at Hull House, Chicago, under the leadership of Jane Addams. The oration was entitled "A Soldier of the Common Good." Mr. Wigram then gave his lecture, "How Eli Got There." He traced the career of an imaginary young man who he named Eli from his graduation to the attainment of ultimate success. With a wealth of illustration and beautiful imagery it was one of the most inspiring talks ever given a high school graduating class. For an hour he held the audience in closest attention. Following the lecture Mrs. Ruby Netwick Devey sang "Sing to Me" and responded to an enthusiastic encore with the beautiful "An Old Fashioned House in an Old Fashioned Town."

The valedictory was given by Miss Lydia Peters who chose as her subject the work of Frances E. Willard, pioneer in the cause of temperance reform and woman's rights. Mr. Guy O. Babcock, president of the Board of Education, then presented the graduates with their diplomas.

FROM DENNIS RATELLE

Kahana, May 10, 1919

Dear Sister:
I received your letter about a week or two ago, so will take time to answer it. How is everybody down home? I am well and feel as fine as a frog's hair.

I was working in our exchange and now that they moved it up to our barracks and made one out of the two of them, I got released and turned back to company duty. So the next day I went out on detachment surveying. There are only six of us out here, the private, the corporal, one sergeant and a master engineer.

The next day after I got released from the exchange we went out to Walauna and was out there twelve days, then we came back to the company on Saturday and Monday we came out to Kahana. We have been out here six days and didn't do a day's work yet. We have got to climb all the high mountains around here and it is so cloudy up here, and it wouldn't do any good if we did go on top we couldn't see anything anyway.

Out at Walauna we were up on some of the mountains and we were way above the clouds. On some of the mountains it rains all the time. Gladys we have got two Ford's out here. One we go to work in as far as we can then we walk the rest of the way. The lieutenant has one which he comes out here once in a while. At Walauna we went about four miles up on the mountains with one of the Ford's there and then we walked about five miles.

I can't think of any more so will close with love to all.

Lovingly brother Dennis

RICHFIELD CHILD WAS DROWNED IN WATER VAT

Marshfield Herald—A distressing accident that caused the death of the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neuman of the town of Richfield happened last Saturday afternoon about four o'clock. Particulars of the case are learned by the Herald are as follows. Mr. Neuman conducts a cheese factory and on the day in question had a whey tank partially filled sitting near the factory. Upon missing the child the mother began a search of the premises with the result that his lifeless body was found in the whey tank. They immediately brought the child to this city in the vain hope that it could be resuscitated but life was extinct, and the child, beyond words, they returned to their home. It is supposed the girl was playing around the tank and accidentally fell in. None of the other children saw the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Neuman have the sympathy of the entire community in their great sorrow.

A woman hopes that she will never get so old and careless that she will wear a pair of shoes that fit her comfortably when she could wear a pair that are too small for her.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN HAD EXPERIENCES AT HALIFAX

John Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Preston, spent several days in the city the past week visiting with friends and relatives. John has been in the British army and also in the British navy. While in the army he was wounded several times and eventually discharged, being afflicted with shell shock. After recovering from the shock he enlisted in the navy and was on a submarine chaser for some time. He happened to be in Halifax when the big explosion occurred there, and had been sent ashore with a companion after water. When the explosion occurred he was about two hundred and fifty feet from the affair, and started to run to get away from that neighborhood, but he did not run toward the place where the second explosion happened. He then decided to stay where he was, as the air was so full of dust and dirt that he could not see for any distance. When the air cleared he found that a large piece of steel that was blown from one of the wrecked boats had landed only a few feet from him, and a runaway team that went by during the excitement smashed him by only a few inches. His partner, who had gone ashore with him to get the water, was never seen nor heard from after that time, so that it is supposed that he met his death in some manner. When John came here he expected to find his mother and father here, but they had left only the day before he arrived.

RETURNED HERO DROWNED WHILE BATHING IN LAKE

Merrill Herald—Corporal William Robert Shipley, Jr., who returned a week ago from France with the navy, was drowned while swimming in Rainbow Lake on Wednesday evening.

The young man, who had a friend with him and three lady friends went to the lake at 6 o'clock to enjoy a swim. The young men had almost crossed the channel when Shipley called to his companion for aid, which was rendered. Shipley placed his arms around the neck of his companion and the latter started to swim to shore when he felt Shipley relax, release his hold and finally sink like a stone. His companion dived for him, but the water was too deep and that place, so he could not reach him.

The youth was an expert swimmer strong of build and in apparent excellent health, having just been examined by the military authorities at Camp Grant. He was twenty-two years of age and was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shipley Sr., whose happy home was changed from a place of rejoicing over the safe arrival of their son from the war to deepest grief.

The body was found half an hour after the drowning occurred. The remains will be given a full military burial at the veteran's home this afternoon.

Pittsville Record—E. Elchstadt, of Port Edwards, chairman of the poor farm committee of the county board and James Case, superintendent of the poor farm, were in Pittsville last Friday afternoon. In company with Geo. W. Brown, of this city, a member of the poor farm committee, they went over the county looking for a horse suitable for work on the poor farm. One was found on the John-Horn farm, north-east of here, which suited the committee better than anything they had seen in the eastern part of the county. It was delivered by Mr. Brown last Friday afternoon. The next day Elchstadt and Case returned to their homes. Elchstadt is of the opinion that they have to come over into this new end of the county to get what they need in horse flesh.

A married man often gets away with a lot of selfishness by calling it absent-mindedness.

SIXTY-ONE SENIORS GRADUATED AT LINCOLN HIGH ON MONDAY

Speaking on the subject of opportunities for success in our modern American life, Mr. A. E. Wiggan, gave the graduates of the Lincoln High School, an unusually sound and inspiring address Monday night. Mr. Wiggan is a scientist of high standing and a lecturer of national reputation. He gives his message in an interesting manner, and never for a moment does his audience seem bored. He came to give the commencement address to the sixty-one young people who received diplomas from the local high school.

The program of the evening was not long. Reverend C. A. Meilicke gave the invocation after which Mr. Edward Jantz, of Port Edwards sang, "The Gypsy Told," and responded to an encore. Miss Stella Rickman, salutatorian of the class gave a fine oration describing the Americanization work at Hull House, Chicago, under the leadership of Jane Addams. The oration was entitled, "A Soldier of the Common Good." Mr. Wiggan then gave his lecture, "How Eli Got There." He traced the career of an imaginary young man whom he named Eli from his graduation to the attainment of ultimate success. With a wealth of illustration and beautiful imagery it was one of the most inspiring talks ever given a high-school graduating class. For an hour he held the audience in closest attention. Following the lecture Mrs. Ruby Nadeau Dewey sang "Sing to Me, Sing" and responded to an enthusiastic encore with the beautiful "An Old Fashioned House in an Old Fashioned Town."

The Valedictory was given by Miss Lydia Peters who chose as her subject the work of Frances E. Willard, pioneer in the cause of temperance reform and woman's rights. Mr. Guy O. Babcock, president of the Board of Education, then presented the graduates with their diplomas.

FROM DENNIS RATELLE

Kabana, May 10, 1919

I received your letter about a week or two ago, so will take time to answer it. How is everybody down home? I am well and feel as fine as a frog's hair.

I was working in our exchange and now that they moved it up to our barracks and made one out of the two of them. I got released and turned back to company duty. So the next day I went out on detachment surveying. There are only six of us out here, three privates, one corporal, one sergeant and a master engineer.

The next day after I got released from the exchange we went out to Waiwae and was out there twelve days, then we came back to the company on Saturday and Monday we came out to Kabana. We have been out here six days and didn't do a day's work. We have got to climb all the high mountains around here and it is so cloudy up here, and it wouldn't do any good if we did go on top we couldn't see anything anyway.

Out at Waiwae we were up on some of the mountains and we were way above the clouds. On some of the mountains it rains all the time. Gladys we have got two Ford's out here. One we go to work in as far as we can then we walk the rest of the way. The lieutenant has one which he comes out here once in a while. At Waiwae we went about four miles up on the mountains with one of the Ford's there and then we walked about two miles.

I can't think of any more so will close with love to all.

Lovingly brother Dennis.

RICHFIELD CHILD WAS DROWNED IN WATER VAT

Marshfield Herald.—A distressing accident that caused the death of the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neuman of the town of Richfield happened last Saturday afternoon about four o'clock. Particulars of the case as learned by the Herald are as follows. Mr. Neuman conducts a cheese factory and on the day in question had a very tank tory upon him. The child, the mother began a search of the premises with the result that its lifeless body was found in the whey tank. They immediately brought the child to this city in the vain hope that it could be resuscitated but life was extinct, and saddened beyond words, they returned to their home. It is supposed the girl was playing around the tank and accidentally fell in. None of the other children saw the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Neuman have the sympathy of the entire community in their great sorrow.

A woman hopes that she will never get so old and careless that she will wear a pair of shoes that fit her comfortably when she could wear a pair that are too small for her.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN HAD EXPERIENCES AT HALIFAX

John Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Preston, spent several days in the city the past week visiting with friends and relatives. John has been farming up in the Winnepeg country, but before going at this had served in the British army and also in the British navy. While in the army he was wounded several times and eventually discharged, being afflicted with shell shock. After recovering from this he enlisted in the navy and was on a submarine chaser for some time. He happened to be in Halifax when the big explosion occurred there, and had been sent ashore with a companion after water. When the explosion occurred he was about two hundred and fifty feet from the water, and started to run to get away from that neighborhood, but in doing so ran toward the place where the second explosion happened. He then decided to stay where he was, as the air was so full of dust and dirt that he could not see for any distance. When the air had cleared he found that a large piece of steel that was blown from one of the wrecked boats had landed only a few feet from him, and a runaway team that went by during the excitement missed him by only a few feet. His partner, who had gone ashore with him to get the water, was never seen nor heard from after that time, so that it is supposed that he met his death in some manner. When John came here he expected to find his mother and father here, but they had left only the day before he arrived.

RETURNED HERO DROWNED WHILE BATHING IN LAKE

Merrill Herald.—Corporal William Robert Shipley, Jr., who returned a week ago from France with Company C, of that city, was drowned while swimming in Rainbow Lake on Wednesday evening.

The young man, with another young man and three lady friends went to the lake at 6 o'clock to enjoy a swim. The young man had a most crossed the channel when shipley called to his companion for aid, which was rendered. Shipley placed his arms around the neck of his companion and the latter started to swim to shore when he felt Shipley relax, release his hold, and finally sink like a stone. His companion dived for him, but the water was forty feet deep at that place, so he could not reach him.

The youth was an expert swimmer, strong of build and in apparent excellent health, having just been examined by the military authorities at Camp Grant. He was twenty-two years of age and was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shipley Sr., whose happy home was changed from a place of rejoicing over the safe return of the son from the war to deepest grief.

The body was found half an hour after the drowning occurred. The remains will be given a full military burial at the veteran's home this afternoon.

Pittsville Record.—E. Eichstadt, of Port Edwards, chairman of the county poor farm committee of the county board and James Case, superintendent of the poor farm, were in Pittsville last Friday afternoon. In company with Geo. W. Brown, of this city, a member of the poor farm committee, they went over the county looking for a horse suitable for work on the poor farm north of here, which suited the committee better than anything they had seen in the eastern part of the county. It was delivered by Mr. Brown to Granville Friend, Brown, to think that they have to come over into this new land of the county to get what they need in horse flesh.

A married man often gets away with a lot of selfishness by calling it absent-mindedness.

Soon Birdmen Will All Be Machine-Made Aviators

WASHINGTON.—A machine that enables you to experience all the physical sensations of flying and to test your fitness for aviation without once losing your hold upon the earth, has just been adopted by the war department for use in training its pilots. It is probable that this device, known as the Tuggies oratorator, will be a feature of all flying schools, and will enable civilians as well as soldiers to determine without risking their lives whether they are fit for flying.

The machine consists of two sets of steel rings, the larger one of which is 12 feet in diameter. One ring revolves in the horizontal plane and the other in the perpendicular plane. The rings are driven by small motors so that they revolve within each other. The "boat," in which the pupil sits, is suspended from the inner ring, and its movements may be controlled by either set of rings. The motors which control the boat may be operated from within by the pupil or from the outside by the instructor. The prospective pilot seats himself in the boat while the instructor sits with his hand on the control, alongside his machine. The instructor can put his pupil through all the motions of a machine in the air by operating the controls, which are connected to the machine by means of wire batteries. After several demonstrations of landing, taking off, dipping, gliding and looping, the pupil is permitted to operate the machine by the controls in the boat. The test is even more severe than that of actual flying. If the neophyte has anything the matter with his heart, nerves or stomach which will disqualify him for flying, the oratorator will bring the fact out at once.

It used to take a hero to tackle the gourd.

Congress Not Going to Stand for the Red Flag

CONGRESS is not going to stand for the red flag in the United States. May day demonstrations, signified with the waving of red flags in various cities, have served to emphasize the determination of congressional leaders to force enactment of legislation which will prohibit and penalize such demonstrations.

While the propaganda committee of the senate has had the subject under consideration and probably will submit a bill on the issue, there is one senator who is not going to wait for a committee to initiate such legislation. He is Senator New of Indiana, who submitted an anti-red flag bill at the last session which went down in the flood of unacted measures on the closing days of congress. Now the Indiana senator is writing another bill and he plans to introduce it as soon as the new congress is convened. The measure, which is directed against the anarchist propaganda movement now agitated in the United States, has already been tentatively prepared, and although subject to revision before presentation to congress, it will be substantially as follows concerning the red flag:

"That the display or exhibition at any meeting, gathering or parade, public or private, of any flag, banner or emblem, symbolizing or intended by the person or persons displaying or exhibiting the same to symbolize a purpose to overthrow by force or violence or by physical injury to person or property or by the general cessation of industry, the government of the United States or of all government, is hereby declared to be unlawful."

Provision is also made against the use of the spoken, written and printed words and the use of the mails.

The penalty for violation of the act is a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both.

"There is entirely too much consideration shown to the class of people who employ the red flag in this country," says Senator New.

Laboratory Experts Now Predict Fireproof Wood

HAVING perfected methods by which bits of wood can be put together so that the whole is as strong as an unbroken piece; having made wood almost as resistant to moisture as iron, and having learned how to season green wood in a few weeks, the experts of the United States forest products laboratory are setting out to do what seems to the layman the impossible—that is, to make wood fireproof.

The remarkable studies in the use and properties of wood are being carried out at the forest products laboratory at Madison, Wis., which does its work in conjunction with the University of Wisconsin. In view of the work which this laboratory has done, and is now doing, it is not stretching probabilities to predict that within a few years it may be possible to build a wooden house, for less than wooden houses cost now, which will be at least as fireproof as a stone house and will rival a stone house in lasting qualities.

Loss of wooden structures by fires has very largely increased, in the opinion of the laboratory experts, and they do not refer to carelessness in the use of matches and cigarettes, either. They say that the faulty use of wood in building is the cause of many fires, and they are endeavoring to determine just how wood can safely be used.

The experiments are accompanied by others in the making of wood fireproof. The experts say that there is no reason why wood, the cheapest and most plentiful building material, should be discriminated against because of its inflammability and its lack of lasting qualities. Both of these shortcomings can and will be overcome.

The forest products laboratory had been putting along for years until the war stirred it up to real activity. Many of the things it discovered in war can be applied to peace. War evidently is not an unmitigated evil.

Wanted: Half-Cent Piece for Paying Luxury Taxes

COMMUNICATIONS have reached the treasury department urging the coinage of a half-cent piece as a means of making exact payments of revenue taxes, but there is no indication that the department will favor the proposition. Attention on the subject, reported from Chicago and other cities, it was stated by treasury officials, would be successful only if sufficiently strong to induce action by congress. Such action would be necessary before a coin of a new denomination could be issued.

Inasmuch as the extra half cent which taxpayers are required to pay on numerous articles goes into the treasury, its officials would not be likely to take the lead in a move which would cut off a portion of the revenue. Members of congress, as the direct representatives of the people, might champion the proposal.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau are trying to prevent profiteering through greater increases in prices than justified by war taxes. The regulation for the collection of the luxury tax has been framed specifically with a view to this end. It is provided that it must be made clear to the customer just what the price of the article is and the amount of the tax.

Although the luxury tax has been in effect only a short time reports of profiteering are reaching the revenue bureau. Revenue agents say violations will not be tolerated.

Under the revenue law false representations are subject to a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both.

Yeomanette, Left $2,000,000, Remains in the Navy

MISS BETTIE FISHER, yeoman (P) second class, sat at her desk addressing letters. The door opened and in walked Charles P. McCauley, an Oklahoma attorney. He proceeded to visit his magic wand. "You have been left the entire estate of your uncle, John Patrick McGowan, a very wealthy oil man of Meridian, Logan county, Okla. You are worth $2,000,000. But you will have to sign some papers."

"I can't be bothered about signing any papers now," said the little yeomanette. "The yeomen are scheduled to parade and be reviewed this afternoon and I can't let any more legal matters stand in the way. I'll meet you after the parade."

And Yeomanette Bettie Fisher went right on addressing letters. The parade of the yeomen came off according to schedule. So did the review. After the parade and review were over Yeomanette Fisher did not feel quite so pushed for time. In fact, she made up her mind that she could take a few minutes to talk over that $2,000,000 legacy with Lawyer McCauley, inasmuch as he had come all the way from Oklahoma for that very purpose.

So she and Lawyer McCauley talked things over. And she found that she had time to sign some papers. One of the pleasing results of this time-killing was that Lawyer McCauley also signed a paper. This was what is commonly known as a check and it was good for $10,000—"something in hand this while."

"What am I going to do?" said Yeomanette Bettie Fisher. "Why, stay right here on the job until Uncle Sam's work is done."

Hank Gowdy evidently was so busy fighting in France he had little time for baseball. From time to time stories came back from France telling of games which Hank caught behind the plate.

Fillingim Makes Record. Dr. Fillingim of the Boston Braves is said to have won 20 games while pitching for the Newport Naval Reserve. This is also said to be a record for the navy.

WEARS INSIGNIA OF THE REVERSED RIVET

Joe Jackson, with the insignia of the reversed rivet on his shoulder, seems to be clouting the ball in old-time style for the White Sox. If he could play all his games on the road he would have a clinic batting with Ty Cobb for the championship. As it is, he will have to listen to caustic remarks in Chicago for half the season.

RED DOON IS MADE MANAGER AT READING

Was Major League Player for Fifteen Seasons.

He Piloted Philadelphia National League Team Through Four Campaigns—Has Lost None of His Old-Time "Pep."

Charles S. Doon, former manager of the Philadelphia National League club, for which organization he caught for 12 seasons, is now manager of the Reading International League club.

Doon, a playing manager, has decided to attempt a comeback after being out of baseball for two seasons. Charles P. Keefe, coach of Albright college and former minor league player and manager, is secretary and business manager of the club.

Reading fans are elated over the selection of Doon as manager. The scorching pitcher was a major league player 15 seasons. He managed the Phillies through four campaigns, winning the 1911, 1912 and 1913 pennants in 1913. In 1914 the loss of a number of his star players crippled the Phillies and Doon finished in sixth place that season. He retired as manager at the close of this campaign, and went to Cleveland in 1915. He spent the 1916 season with the Giants, after which he retired from the game.

Since quitting baseball Doon has been engaged in the garage and cigar business in and around Philadelphia.

Though near the two-score mark, Doon has lost none of his old-time "pep," always keeping in the best of condition, and Reading fans believe that he will not only be a success as a manager, but make good as a player as well.

DIAMOND NOTES

Rail Mark, son of Connie, will manage the Merchants' team of Baltimore.

Outfielder Lewis of the Indians has been sold to the Memphis club of the Southern league.

Pitcher Bernhardt of Arthur Irvan's Rochester club was with the Yanks for a time last season.

The St. Louis Cardinals have shipped Gil Meyers, the young college catcher, to St. Joseph.

Lafayette has a fine pitcher in Meyer. He recently shut out Syracuse without a run or hit.

Joe Jackson's work in the shipyards doesn't dim his batting eye.

Kansas City announces the release of Catcher Rayeroff to Joplin and the outright release of Pitcher Jaynes.

Walter Johnson keeps right in the line of duty regardless of signs that he is going back.

Pitcher Roy Sanders, who has refused to join the Pittsburgh Pirates, is a ticket seller at the Union station in Kansas City.

Postponed games seem to pile up, no matter where the big leagues open their campaigns.

Verl Schlapp is not expected to be of much use to the New York Giants this season. His arm does not get any better.

The more errors Ivy Olson makes the oftener he comes back with sensational plays. There are shortstops with better reputations than Ole, but they do not play harder than the Superb veteran.

Howard Ehmke, former Syracuse pitcher who Griffith contended was his property, looks like the best pitcher on Jennings' staff.

Manager William Glendon of the Chicago White Sox expects Charles Williams, his left-handed pitcher, to win a large number of games this summer.

"Oh, no," replied the lady. "The beautiful Miss Smith to whom you refer is a cousin of mine." "Oh, that's it. Well, I thought there must be a mistake somewhere," said the gallant youth.—Boston Transcript.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Soon Birdmen Will All Be Machine-Made Aviators

WASHINGTON.—A machine that enables you to experience all the physical sensations of flying and to test your fitness for aviation without once losing your hold upon the earth, has just been adopted by the war department for use in training its pilots. It is probable that this device, known as the Ruggies orientator, will be a feature of all flying schools, and will enable civilians as well as soldiers to determine without risking their lives whether they are fit for flying.

The machine consists of two sets of steel rings, the larger one of which is 12 feet in diameter. One ring revolves in the horizontal plane and the other in the perpendicular plane. The rings are driven by small motors so that they revolve within each other. As they revolve, the rings may be controlled by either set of rings. The motors which control the boat may be operated from within by the pupil or from the outside by the instructor. The prospective pilot seats himself in the boat while the instructor sits with his hand on the control, alongside his machine. The instructor can put his pupil through all the motions of a machine in the air by operating the controls, which are connected to the machine by means of wire batteries. After several demonstrations of looping-the-loop, diving, gliding and banking, the pupil is permitted to operate the machine by the controls in the boat. The test is even more severe than that of actual flying. If the neophyte has anything the matter with his heart, nerves or stomach which will disqualify him for flying, the orientator will bring the fact out at once.

It used to take a hero to tackle the game. Soon the birdman will be machine-made.

Congress Not Going to Stand for the Red Flag

CONGRESS is not going to stand for the red flag in the United States. May day demonstrations, glorified with the waving of red flags in various cities, have served to emphasize the determination of congressional leaders to forestall enactment of legislation which will prohibit and penalize such demonstrations.

While the propaganda committee of the senate has had the subject under consideration and probably will submit a bill on the issue, there is one senator who is not going to wait for a moment to initiate such legislation. He is Senator New of Indiana, who submitted an anti-red flag bill at the last session which went down in the flood of unmet measures on the closing days of congress.

Now the Indiana senator is writing another bill and he plans to introduce it as soon as the new congress convenes. The measure, particularly directed against the anarchist propaganda movement now agitated in the United States, has already been tentatively prepared, and although subject to revision before presentation to congress, it will be substantially as follows concerning the red flag:

"That the display or exhibition at any meeting, gathering or parade, public or private, of any flag, banner or emblem, symbolizing or intended by the person or persons displaying or exhibiting the same to symbolize a purpose to overthrow by force or violence or by physical injury to person or property or by the general cessation of industry, the government of the United States or of all government, is hereby declared to be unlawful."

Provision is also made against the use of the spoken, written and printed words, and the use of the mails, of a flag of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both.

"There is entirely too much consideration shown to the class of people who employ the red flag in this country," says Senator New.

Laboratory Experts Now Predict Fireproof Wood

HAVING perfected methods by which bits of wood can be put together so that the whole is as strong as an unbroken piece; having made wood almost as resistant to moisture as iron, and having learned how to season green wood in a few weeks, the experts of the United States forest products laboratory are setting out to do what seems to the layman the impossible—that is, to make wood fireproof.

These remarkable studies in the use and properties of wood are being carried out at the forest products laboratory at Madison, Wis., which does its work in conjunction with the University of Wisconsin. In view of the work which this laboratory has done, and is now doing, it is not surprising that the experts are predicting that within a few years it may be possible to build a wooden house, for less than wooden houses cost now, which will be at least as fireproof as a stone house and will rival a stone house in lasting qualities.

Lines of wooden structures by fires due very largely to carelessness. In the opinion of the laboratory experts, and they do not refer to carelessness in the use of matches and cigarettes, either. They say that the faulty use of wood in building is the cause of many fires, and they are carrying on investigations to determine just how wood can safely be used.

The experiments are accompanied by others in the making of wood fireproof. The experts say that there is no reason why the cheapest and most plentiful building material, should be discriminated against because of its inflammability and its lack of lasting qualities. Both of these shortcomings can and will be overcome.

The forest products laboratory had been putting along for years until the war stirred it up to real activity. Many of the things it discovered in war can be applied to peace. War evidently is not an unmixed evil.

Wanted: Half-Cent Piece for Paying Luxury Taxes

COMMUNICATIONS have reached the treasury department urging the coinage of a half-cent piece as a means of making exact payments of revenue taxes. But there is no indication that the department will favor the proposition. Agitation on the subject, reported from Chicago and other cities, was stated by treasury officials, would be successful only if sufficiently strong to induce action by congress. Such action would be necessary before a coin of a new denomination could be issued.

Inasmuch as the extra half cent on numerous articles goes into the treasury, its officials would not be likely to take the lead in a move which would cut off a portion of the revenue. Members of congress, as the direct representatives of the people, might champion the proposal.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau are trying to prevent profiteering through greater increases in prices than justified by war taxes. The regulation for the collection of the luxury tax has been framed specifically with a view to this end. It is provided that it must be made clear to the customer just what the price of the article is and the amount of the tax.

Although the luxury tax has been in effect only a short time reports of profiteering are reaching the revenue bureau. Revenue agents say violations will not be tolerated.

Under the revenue law false representations are subject to a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both.

Yeomanette, Left $2,000,000, Remains in the Navy

MISS BETTIE FISHER, yeoman (F) second class, sat at her desk addressing letters. The door opened and in walked Charles P. McCauley, an Oklahoma attorney. He proceeded to wield his magic wand. "You have been left the entire estate of your uncle, John Patrick McGowan, a very wealthy oil man of Meridian, Logan county, Okla. You are worth $2,000,000. But you will have to sign some papers."

"I can't be bothered about signing any papers now," said the little millionaire. "The yeomen are scheduled to parade and I can't be away from my post. I'll meet you after the parade."

And Yeomanette Bettie Fisher went right on addressing letters. The parade of the yeomen came off according to schedule. So did the review. After the parade and review were over Yeomanette Fisher did not feel quite so pushed for time. In fact, she made up her mind that she could take a few minutes to talk over that $2,000,000 legacy with Lawyer McCauley, inasmuch as he had come all the way from Oklahoma for that very purpose.

So she and Lawyer McCauley talked things over. And she found that she had time to sign some papers. One of the pleasing results of this time-killing was that Lawyer McCauley also signed a paper. This was what is commonly known as a check and it was good for $10,000—"something in hand the whilst."

"What am I going to do?" said Yeomanette Bettie Fisher. "Why, stay right here on the job until Uncle Sam's work is done."

RUBE WADDELL'S ODD STUNT IS IMITATED

Rube Waddell's famous stunt of calling in all of his infielders and outfielders and striking out the other fellows was duplicated by George Uhle recently in putting the finishing touches to a 14 to 1 victory for the Indians over the Tulane varsity ball nine at New Orleans.

The outfielders left the field and the infielders clustered around second base while George struck them out in one-two-three order in the ninth.

Waddell, while with the Athletics some years ago, made the Albany team furious by chasing every member of his team from the field except the catcher.

And when it came to the final strike for the third man, Rube even made his catcher sit down on the ground to receive it.

This Uhle stunt was planned more by the Tribesmen than it was by Uhle himself. The Indians doing it to show their belief in the rookie's prowess.

ately that the spectators shout with the humor of it all.

All of these Cubs are supposed to know about everything there is to learn regarding the actual playing end of the game, but they learned a lot from the film.

The decision at second base, for example, shows how a play that may seem close can be—when filmed by the movie man—just the reverse.

An especially good bit was when the pitcher throw the ball and then turned slowly and watched it go past him for a hit. The expression on his face was immense.

SHOTEN IS SUNDAY MANAGER

Outfielder Obtained by Cardinals From Washington. Cling to Supplants Rickey on Sabbath.

Bert Shotten, the outfielder obtained from the Washington Senators, has been appointed Sunday manager of the Cardinals by the president and manager, Branch Rickey. Rickey is one of the few players who never played ball on Sunday. Matty was another. But "Big Six" led his team from the bench when he was manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

KNOW MUCH ABOUT BASEBALL

Germans Understand American Pastime Better Than Is Supposed—Hooted Misplays.

Lieut. Lloyd Waite, formerly a Pirate, and recently returned from France, where he served in the same artillery regiment with Grover Alexander, says that the Germans know a lot more about baseball than generally is supposed.

On several occasions, when American soldiers were playing games in dangerously exposed positions, Germans within good firing distance not only let them alone, but stood up in their trenches and hooted derisively when anybody made a feeble error, struck out, or home-headed on a play.

"Am," says the lieutenant, "maybe you think it wouldn't get a fellow hot under the collar, after miffing a fly with bases full, to get the raspberry from a whole Bavarian regiment across the way?"

Manager Fohl is confident that the Cleveland team will wind up near the top this year.

Fillingim Makes Record. Doc Fillingim of the Boston Braves is said to have won 20 games while pitching for the Newport Naval Reserves. This is also said to be a record for the navy.

Immune. "There is one thing to be said for cod liver oil," remarked the man who takes medicine. "What's that?" "No matter how expensive it may become, it will never be a proper subject for a luxury tax."

WEARS INSIGNIA OF THE REVERSED RIVET

Joe Jackson, with the insignia of the reversed rivet on his shoulder, seems to be clouting the ball in old-time style for the White Sox. If he could play all his games on the road he would have a cinch battling with Ty Cobb for the championship. As it is, he will have to listen to cause remarks in Chicago for half the season.

Charles S. Doolin, former manager of the Philadelphia National League club, for which organization he caught for 12 seasons, is now manager of the Reading International League club.

Doolin, a playing manager, has decided to attempt a comeback after being out of baseball for two seasons.

Red Doolin

Charles F. Ketchner, coach of Albright college and former minor league player and manager, is secretary and business manager of the club.

Reading fans are elated over the selection of Doolin as manager. The sorrel-topped catcher was a major league 15 seasons. He managed the Phillies through four campaigns, assuming this role in 1911, and relinquished it at the close of the 1914 season.

As boss of the Phillies, Doolin piloted his team into fourth place in 1911, finished fifth in 1912 and barely was nosed out by the Giants for the pennant in 1913. In 1914 the loss of a number of his star players crippled the Phillies and Doolin finished in sixth place that season. He retired as manager at the close of this campaign, and went to Cincinnati in 1915.

Since quitting baseball Doolin has been engaged in the garage and cigar business in and around Philadelphia.

Though near the two-score mark, Doolin has lost none of his old-time "pep," always keeping in the best of condition, and Reading fans believe that he will not only be a success as a manager, but make good as a player as well.

DIAMOND NOTES

Earl Mack, son of Connie, will manage the Merchants' team of Baltimore.

Outfielder Lewis of the Indians has been sold to the Memphis club of the Southern league.

Pitcher Bernhardt of Arthur Irwin's Rochester club was with the Yanks for a time last season.

The St. Louis Cardinals have shipped Gil Meyers, the young college catcher, to St. Joseph.

Lafayette has a fine pitcher in Moyer. He recently shut out Syracuse without a run or hit.

Joe Jackson's work in the shipyards didn't dim his batting eye.

Kansas City announces the release of Catcher Rayeroff to Joplin and the outright release of Pitcher Jaynes.

Walter Johnson keeps right in the limelight regardless of signs that he is going back.

Pitcher Roy Samuels, who has refused to join the Pittsburgh Pirates, is a ticket seller at the Union station in Kansas City.

Positioned games seem to pile up, no matter how the big leagues open their campaigns.

Ferd Schupp is not expected to be of much use to the New York Giants this season. His arm does not gait any better.

The more errors Ivy Olson makes the oftener he comes back with sensational plays. There are shortstops with better reputations than Ole, but they do not play harder than the Superba veteran.

Howard Ehnke, former Syracuse pitcher who Griffith contended was his property, looks like the best pitcher on Jennings' staff.

Manager William Gleason of the Chicago White Sox expects Charles Williams, his left-handed pitcher, to win a large number of games this summer.

A Mistake Somewhere.

At an evening party a smart young man was introduced to a young lady, and after a remark about the weather, he said gallantly: "And have I really the pleasure of meeting the beautiful Miss Smith whose praises are being sounded by everybody?"

"Oh, no," replied the lady. "The beautiful Miss Smith to whom you refer is a cousin of mine."

"Oh, that's it. Well, I thought there must be a mistake somewhere," said the gallant youth.—Boston Transcript.

Bitter or Better Baking

A letter makes a great difference in a word. A word makes a great difference in baking powders.

If the little word "alum" appears on the label it may mean bitter baking.

If the word ROYAL stands out bold and strong, it surely means BETTER baking.

This is only one reason why it pays to use

Mr. Palmatier is 54 years of age, but is still enjoying good health and is able to get about in better shape than many a man twenty years younger, and to look at him it is hard to realize that he has reached such an advanced age. Mr. Palmatier was engaged in wagon making in this city and was at one time mayor of the city, and still has many friends here among the old residents who were glad to meet him again.
